

Left: Alberto Antolini and Giovanni Battista Girolomoni (left to right)
Above: Rendering of the mill that OCRM is going to build for Girolomoni

Girolomoni has chosen OCRM for its first mill

A momentous contract has been signed for OCRM to supply Girolomoni organic farm with a 100 T/24h mill for grinding organic durum wheat and spelt, which will be installed next to the company.

Giovanni Battista and Samuele Girolomoni, respectively president of Girolomoni, and Managing Partner/farmer, and Gianluca Bettarelli, General Manager, went to OCRM's headquarters to sign the contract in March 2018.

In order to provide a top-quality mill, the plant will be fully automated and equipped with cutting-edge technology manufactured and implemented in recent years.

Girolomoni is an Italian organic agricultural company with a history spanning more than 40 years, founded in Isola del Piano (in the province of Pesaro-Urbino, Italy), thanks to the skills, determination and extensive knowledge of Gino Girolomoni. It is considered the leading organic farm in Italy. The company differs from other organic agricultural companies due to the fact that it has an all-round organic culture and philosophy, prioritising its founding values and honesty over any market strategy in order to grow.

The plant that will be built will also be equipped with systems for air purification and environmental air treatment, which will maintain air quality consistent by means of special filtration and distribution systems inside the building. This system allows for a controlled and balanced atmosphere, therefore facilitating and simplifying the grinding process. The semolina produced will then be selected for transport directly to the pasta processing plant, which is already present at the and is located right next to the mill.

Therefore, the cultivation of the raw material, the harvest, cleaning, grinding and, finally, the production of pasta takes place within a radius of just a few metres, thus obtaining a real organic product, locally conceived and produced.

Together with Gianluca Bettarelli, Giovanni Battista and Samuele Girolomoni spent a whole day at OCRM to define what can be considered a turning point in the company's development, an evolution that complements the company's core values. In fact, the mill was the last link completing the supply chain of the cooperative, thus allowing for full control of wheat processing at every stage: from growing to harvesting, but also cleaning and grinding, to ensure an excellent and safe end product.

The mill represents the beginning of a bond between two companies that share the same passion for work, people and the local area. Both companies, carry out all their production and logistic processes in Italy at their own facilities.

A key value for both companies is honesty, understood as consistency and intellectual honesty: for both companies, it is essential to be consistent and respectful towards customers/consumers, guaranteeing what is established in contracts or written on product labels, as a proper deal to be honoured.

YOUR GLOBAL PARTNER

